Annual Report 2007-2008

THIS IS THE 47th Annual Report of the India International Centre for the year commencing 1st of February 2007 to the 31st of January 2008. It will be placed before the 52nd Annual General Body Meeting of the Centre, to be held on the 26th of March 2008.

Smt. Justice (Retd.) Leila Seth and Dr R.K. Pachauri were elected to the Board of Trustees, the former from the Individual Members' constituency and the latter from the Corporate segment.

Shri Inder Malhotra and Cmde C. Uday Bhaskar, representing the Individual segment, Dr S.M. Dewan, representing the Corporate segment, and Prof. Mushirul Hasan, representing the Universities, were elected to the Executive Committee. Smt. Vasantha S. Bharucha and Brig. Sukhjit Singh were nominated to the Executive Committee by the Board of Trustees.

The Board of Trustees reconstituted the Finance Committee for the two-year period April 2007 to March 2009 with Dr Shankar Nath Acharya as Chairman and Cmde C. Uday Bhaskar and Shri Pradeep Dinodia as members.

The tenures of the Library and House Committees, as modified, have been extended for a further period of one year, i.e. till the 31st of December 2008.

In the national honours list twenty-five distinguished members of the Centre were vested with the Padma Awards for the year 2008.

Shri M. H. Ansari, a member of the Centre and past member of the Executive Committee, assumed office of the Vice-President of India on the 11th of August 2007.

Dr R. K. Pachauri, an elected Trustee of the Centre, heads the Inter-Governmental Panel on Climate change, which organisation shared the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize with the former Vice-President of the U.S., Mr. Al Gore, on 'Climate Change: Alerting the World to the threat of Global Warming'. Dr R. K. Pachauri was also conferred the Padma Vibhushan.

Dr L.M. Singhvi, eminent Life Trustee and Past President of the IIC, passed away on the 6th of October 2007.

Dr Singhvi was a Life Member of the Centre from 1967 and was selected as a Life Trustee in 1983. He served as President of the IIC from January 1988 to December 1991. Despite his many preoccupations, Dr Singhvi always found time for the Centre and was intimately involved with a range of programmes of the Centre in the fields of literature, education, culture and constitutional and international law.

Dr Singhvi delivered the C.D. Deshmukh Memorial Lecture on 14th of January 1989 on 'The Unfinished Tasks of the Constitution', which led to an important four-day seminar in April 1990 on 'Fulfilling the Tryst with Destiny: An agenda for India' which was a homage to the memory of Jawaharlal Nehru.

In September 2007 Shri N. N. Vohra was selected as Life Trustee of the Centre. Shri Vohra was educated at the Punjab and Oxford Universities. He belonged to the Punjab cadre of the Indian Administrative Service from 1959-94 and has held several distinguished positions in the state and in the Government of India. After retirement he served as Director of the IIC from 1995 to 1997 and from 1998 to 2003. In 2003 he was appointed by the Government of India to initiate and carry through a dialogue with the elected representatives as well as all individuals and organisations in Jammu and Kashmir.

Programmes

The year 2007-08 was a very hectic one and, as has been in the past, the Centre organised a variety of programmes, initiated by it or in collaboration with other institutions. The Centre also provided venues free of charge or at subsidized rates to institutions which pursue similar objectives. During the year under review subventions amounting to Rs. 58.43 lakhs were provided as against Rs. 52.05 lakhs in the previous year.

Between February 2007—January 2008 the IIC held 229 seminars/talks/discussions and 278 performances, exhibitions, documentary and feature films, as part of the general initiatives as well as the special occasions and festivals.

IIC Experience

The fourth IIC EXPERIENCE was held from 24th October to 30th October, attracting, as always, the interest of members and the public. The festival opened with 'Ansh', choreographic compositions with contemporary renditions of the traditional Odissi idiom by Nrityagram of Bangalore. A solo Kathak recital was given by the well-known dancer, Ms Prerana Shrimali, who had also included choreographic compositions, like 'The Witness of Water' in her recital. Carnatic vocal music was taken to great heights by Shri T.M. Krishna. A morning of Malwa songs by Smt. Vasundhara Komkali and Smt. Kalapini Komkali re-evoked the haunting emotive style of the late Pt. Kumar Gandharva. 'Darb al Harir: the Silky Path, a Musical Journey through North Africa, Spain and India' presented some fine singing by Ms Meryem Koufi of Algeria and Mr. Lakha Versi from the Kutch. From Austria the Cremser Selection presented the music of the Heurigen, which is a special time when the early wine is served in Vienna's wine houses to the accompaniment of music and dance. The show was followed by an Austrian dinner where the singing continued. 'A Celebration of Peace, Freedom and Justice', a concert by Mr. Lou Majaw and friends, added a contemporary, rock element to the Festival. The finale was Shri Girish Karnad's play, Nagamandalam, exquisitely produced and directed by Ms Neelam Mansingh of The Company, Chandigarh.

The exhibitions presented a varied fare: Photographs of the monasteries of Rinchen Zangpo in Tibet and India taken by Mr. Benoy Behl; 'Aerial Roots—Four Artists Response to the Environment', presenting sculptures and installations by Mr. Tutu Pattnaik, Ms Kriti Arora, Mr. Rajeev Gautam and Mr. Ranmal Singh Jhala; an exhibition in two parts entitled 'Grand Trunk Road: The River of Life', with one part devoted to 'Documenting the Grand Trunk Road', curated by Prof. B.M. Pande in collaboration with the Archeological Survey of India, and the other part entitled 'GTR Alive!' curated by Prof. Pushpesh Pant. Thematic events were linked to these exhibitions—Gandhi's bhajans sung by the students of the Blind School as part of 'Aerial Roots' exhibition and 'Songs of the Road' by Smt. Vidya Rao as part of the Grand Trunk Road exhibition.

WORD TO IMAGE: THE LITERARY IMAGINATION AND CINEMA was the title of the film festival which featured the superb cinematic translations of the literary works of Stefan Zweig, Graham Greene, Dashiell Hammet, Gunter Grass, Alberto Moravia, Lope de Vega and many others, by directors such as Vittorio de Sica, Ritwik Ghatak, Carol Reed and John Houston.

The Cuisines included continental food, food of the Grand Trunk Road, the cuisines of Bengal and Karnataka states, and of countries like Austria, Morocco and Israel.

New Initiatives

Nine lectures and discussions by academics, experts and analysts formed a month-long series, SPOTLIGHT ON NEIGHBOURS, focusing on Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Nepal, China, Bangladesh, Myanmar and Sri Lanka. The lectures covered recent developments in the region with a view to understanding the roots of the turmoil that has beset India's neighbourhood as well as examining the kinds of policies that are most appropriate to India. The lectures have been edited by Shri I. P. Khosla and have been published by Konark Publishers.

The year 2007 marked the 150th Anniversary of the Indian Mutiny of 1857 with the Centre holding several programmes to observe it. In continuation of the exhibition, 'On Hallowed Ground: Aftermath of the Uprising, 1857' held in January 2007, comprising photographs from the Alkazi Collection, the following exhibitions on 1857 were organized: 'Representations of 1857: Recovering the Indian Voice', an exhibition juxtaposing different representations of 1857 in contemporary sketches and paintings from the collections of Aligarh Muslim University and Victoria & Albert Museum (London); representation of 1857 in authenticated surviving texts of proclamations, letters and orders, as well as personal narratives, especially memoirs and depositions relating to the trials of the 'rebels' found in the National Archives of India. This was in collaboration with the Indian Council of Historical Research. 'The 1857 Uprising in Central India', exhibited photographic coverage of the period and archival material of the 1857 Uprising in the districts of Madhya Pradesh, including the tribal revolts in several areas of the state.

There were talks on 'Rethinking the Revolt: Coinage during 1857-59' by Dr Shailendra Bhandare and '1857 War of Independence—Myth or Reality' by Prof. Mushirul Hasan and a discussion around Mr. Biswamoy Pati's book, The 1857 Rebellion.

A series, DELHI THAT WAS, attempted to give a glimpse of the culture of pre-1857 Delhi and comprised a talk by Shri Akhilesh Mithal on '1857: The Culture Fracture' and an evening of Qawwalis by Chand Afzal and Party of the Delhi Gharana. A special dinner featuring the cuisine of Delhi was prepared for IIC members by Mrs. Sadia Dehlvi.

YOGIS-THE MYSTIC MASTERS, a new series in collaboration with the Foundation for Universal Responsibility of H.H. The Dalai Lama, has been designed to spread over two evenings and incorporates lectures, films and modest concerts that emphasize the work and lives of saints and philosophers, such as Lad Ded of Kashmir, Sant Tukaram, Sri Ramanna Maharshi, the Mystic Masters of Tibet, Tiru-gnana-sambandar and Sri Aurobindo.

The IIC, in collaboration with The Attic commenced a new series of eight lectures and four performances called THE DIALOGUES OF FAITH, highlighting the syncretic nature of India's religious and musical traditions. Two programmes were held in January: 'Songs of Connectivity as the Imagined Histories of the Sacred Word' by Mr. Madan Gopal Singh and 'The Buddha, Dharma and Sangha: The Three Jewels of Buddhist Thought' by The Ven. Khandro Rinpoche.

The IIC and the Council for Social Development have agreed to co-sponsor seminars based on the research that CSD is presently engaged in. As a start there was a two-day seminar on 'Structural Transformation in post-Liberalisation India: The Emerging Scenario'. The seminar addressed the diverse and drastic changes that have occurred in India since 1991, especially in society. Scholars from universities from Delhi and outside participated.

Japan Year in India

A lecture series, JAPAN YEAR IN INDIA, commenced in January 2007 to mark the celebrations commemorating fifty years of the Cultural Agreement between India and Japan. The lectures covered mainly the influence that India has had on various aspects of Japanese culture. The subjects covered were: 'Hindu Gods and Goddesses Rooted in Japan'; 'India-Japan Ties through the Dyeing Technique and the Origin of the Gion Festival'; 'Indian Calico and its Influence in East Asian Countries'; 'Indian Ideas Rooted in Japanese Mind'; 'Legends of Indian Gods in Japan—the Transformation of the Seven Gods of Fortune and Daikoku (Mahakala)'; 'Sanskrit and Japanese Language: Kana and Siddham Study'; 'The Friendship between Nobel Laureate Rabindranath Tagore and Cultural Ideologue Tenshin Okakura'; 'The Indian Impacts on Japanese Traditional Performing Arts'; 'Maritime Silk Road and India: Medieval Commercial Activities in the Indian Ocean as Revealed from Chinese Ceramic Sherds and South Indian and Sri Lankan Inscriptions'; 'Two Boses: Ras Bihari Bose and Subhas Chandra Bose'; and 'Suzuki's Business Activities: Manufacturing in India'. The series was organised in collaboration with the Embassy of Japan.

As part of the year's celebrations other events were organised which included 'Sketches from Madhya Pradesh'—an exhibition of pencil and pastel work by Dr Yoichi Yamagata, Japanese natural scientist based in Bhopal; an Indo-Japanese Film Festival in which Doraemon and The Little Dinosaur, Hula Girls, Love in Tokyo from India and Tokyo Story were screened. On the occasion of the visit of the Japanese Prime Minister, Mr. Shinzo Abe, the IIC screened Always Sunset on Third Street. The screening was preceded by an introduction by Mrs. Abe.

Seminars/Talks/Discussions

A generous donation made by Shri B. G. Deshmukh enabled the IIC to start a lecture series on Governance. The first lecture had been delivered by Justice M. N. Venkatachaliah in 2006. The second lecture, 'Politics and Governance', was delivered in 2007 by Dr Bimal Jalan, MP and former Governor of the Reserve Bank of India. Dr Jalan spoke on the role of politics in the creation of a system where nothing works and where there is no accountability, dwelling on the systemic roots of the malaise and suggesting five reforms urgently required to improve governance.

The ongoing series, PUTTING IDEAS FIRST, organised in collaboration with the Craft Revival Trust, included talks and discussions on: 'Indian Textiles from the 16th to the 19th Centuries' by the well-known historian, Dr Rosemary Crill; 'Varanasi Handloom Cluster', exposition of a study conducted by Mr. Nesar Ahmed of JNU on the state of the local weavers of Varanasi; 'Creating Sustainable Livelihood Opportunities in Kumaon' by Ms Rashmi Bharti, founder of the NGO, AVANI; 'Building Bridges between Old and New' by Ms Faith Singh of Anokhi who started the Jaipur Virasat Foundation to generate a citizens' movement for heritage, social and economic development; 'Cotton Comes Alive—Experience in the Field of Hand Weaving' by Uzamma, founder trustee of Dastkar Andhra Trust; 'Psychoacoustics and the Production and Perception of Tabla and Sitar' by Ms Punita Singh; 'Natural Blue in Europe' by Ms Betty de Paris on the woad (Isatis tinctoria); 'A National Identity or Universality in Design?—A Personal Quest' by Mr. Tilak Samarawickrema, Principal Partner, the Architectural and Design Group.

THE ENVIRONMENT AND HEALTH PUBLIC lectures, in collaboration with an NGO, Toxics Link, have also been in existence for several years and continue to be both topical and popular, attracting the attention of a young audience. The areas covered in the discussions have been: 'Whiff of Death: Mercury in Healthcare'; 'Raising Voices to Save the Yamuna'; 'Delhi's Vanishing Tree Cover'; 'E-waste'; 'Chipping Life Away—Silica Mining'; 'On the Brink and Counting—The Tiger Story'; 'Toying with Toxicity'; 'Forests' Rights Act—A Stillborn Legislation?'; and 'Global Warming'.

Programmes were initiated by members of the twelve Programme Planning Advisory Groups as well as other members of the IIC. Some of the events are given below.

Culture

The IIC has been collaborating with the Foundation for Universal Responsibility of H.H. The Dalai Lama for some time now for different programme series such as THE CULTURE OF BREATH, and TO SERVE which are still on-going. In addition the Centre also held lectures and discussions, viz., Ven. Matthieu Ricard, a French Buddhist monk's talk on 'Train Your Mind, Change your Brain: The Inner Conditions for Genuine Happiness', and a discussion on 'Engaged Buddhism'.

Lectures covering a range of subjects of cultural interest included: 'Tagore and the Idea of Civilisation' by Prof. Ramin Jahanbegloo; 'Nothing in the Changing World is Permanent: Sri Lanka and the Buddhist Aesthetics' by Dr Sinharaja Tammita-Delgoda; 'God and the Evolving Universe' by Mr. Michael Murphy; 'Beethoven: The Genius that was Human' by Shri Rohinton Nariman; 'Voices Within—Carnatic Music: Passing on an Inheritance' by Shri T.M. Krishna and Ms Bombay Jayashri; 'Ikebana' by Smt. Meena Iyer; '60 Years of Hindi Cinema' by Lord Meghnad Desai; 'The Concept of Mind in the Yogasutras' by Dr Oscar Pujol; 'The Triumph of Modernism: Indian Artists and the Avant Garde (1922-47)' by Prof. Partha Mitter; 'The Concept of Pilgrimage in Buddhism' by Prof. K. T. S. Sarao; 'The Shaiva Age—An Explanation of the Rise and Dominance of Tantric Shaivism in Early Medieval Period' by Prof. Alexis Sanderman; a discussion on Alain Danielou which marked the birth centenary of this French Indologist; 'Jerusalem' by Shri Dalip Mehta; and 'The Devadasi and the Saint—The Life and Times of Bangalore Nagarathnamma' by Dr V. Sriram.

Economics and Development

The annual seminar on the 'Mid-Year Review of the Indian Economy' for 2007-08 was presented by Dr Rajiv Kumar, Director of the Indian Council for Research in International Economic Relations (ICRIER). Dr Kumar focused on India linking to the world economy, the performance of the Indian economy after the 1980s in different sectors, and India's growth prospects for the period under review. The discussants were Ms Mythili Bhusnurmath of the Economic Times and Dr Subir Gokarn of CRISIL.

Two programmes were held in collaboration with the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy: 'Power to the People? Governance Issues in Electricity Distribution Reform'; and 'The Union Budget, 2007-08'.

An international seminar on 'Dynamics of Contemporary Islam and Economic Development in Asia from the Caucasus to China' was held in collaboration with the Centre de Sciences Humaines. Other lectures included: 'WTO Negotiation and Its Impact on International Trade' by Shri S.N. Menon; 'Culture and Trade in the Era of WTO' by Dr Rostam Neuwirth; and 'Enhancing India's Economic Integration with the Rest of Asia' by Prof. Mukul Asher.

Education

A discussion was organised on the 'Autonomy of Educational Institutions', chaired by Professor Mushirul Hasan, Vice-Chancellor of Jamia Millia Islamia University. The panelists comprised Prof. S. K. Thorat, Chairman of the University Grants Commission, Dr Krishna Kumar, Director, NCERT, and Shri Bharat Wariavwala of the Centre for the Study of Developing Societies.

Two lectures under the generic title of 'Asian Cities' were delivered by Prof. Shail Mayaram of the Centre for the Study of Developing Societies: 'Debating Global Cities—From Al Kahirah to Kuala Lumpur' and 'The Pre and Post Communist City: The Case of Bukhara and Lhasa'.

Environment

Nobel Laureate, Ms Wangari Maathai, spoke on 'The Role of Leadership in Environmental Protection'.

The IIC and the Earthcaare Foundation held two seminars to mark the International Day of Action for Rivers and to celebrate Earth Day—'Conservation of Biodiversity', and 'Role of National Parks and Sanctuaries'. Other programmes included: 'Why Should India Go Organic and How Much?' by Dr Tej Pratap; 'Birds in Our Life—Culture, Conservation and Politics' by Shri Ashish Kothari; 'Tigers, Tribals and Forests—A Wildlife Warden's Perspective' by Dr H.S. Pabla; and 'The Politics of Food' by Dr Marion Nestle.

Health

Two new series focusing on Health were introduced: COMPLEMENTARY MEDICINE and I AM YOUR ORGAN. In the first series the following areas were covered: Tibetan Medicine, Colour Puncture Therapy and Naturopathy. In the second, talks were held on the Brain, the Prostate, the Heart, and on Diabetes.

History and Archaeology

In 2006 the IIC had collaborated with JNU on an international seminar, 'Memory as History: The Legacy of Alexander in Asia' which was subsequently published and a discussion was organised around the book. Talks included: 'The Dynamics of History: Naxalites, Tribals and Democracy' by Dr Ramachandra Guha;

'Cholistan and the Harappan Civilisation' by Prof. Rafique Mughal; 'Archaic India's Book-keeping System: The Contents of the Indus Valley Civilisation' by Dr Malati Shendge; 'Caral Supe: The Oldest Civilisation of America' by Dr Ruth Shady; 'Percival Spear Remembered: What Happened to Local History?' by Dr Narayani Gupta and two talks on Gandhiji, 'The Gandhi You May Not Know' by Dr Rajmohan Gandhi and 'Gandhi—A Political and Spiritual Life' by Dr Kathryn Tidrick.

International Affairs

The special series on Latin America organised by the Centre in collaboration with Group of Latin American and Caribbean Countries came to a close in May, after a successful eleven months in which a forum as well as some awareness for Latin American affairs was created.

The Centre, the ICCR, the Delegation for the European Union, Auroville and the Jean Monnet for Europe Foundation, Lausanne, organised an event, 'Uniting People: Jean Monnet' comprising an exhibition on the life of Jean Monnet, one of the founders of the European Union; Dr Karan Singh delivered a lecture on 'India and the Ideal of Human Unity'; while a seminar was held on 'Uniting People: Jean Monnet and the Construction of Europe'. The keynote address was delivered by Dr L.M. Singhvi.

Other seminars organised were: 'Defence, Security and Diplomacy: India's National Interests' organised in collaboration with the Association of Indian Diplomats; and a symposium on the 'Seventeenth Party Congress of the Chinese Communist Party', in collaboration with the Institute of Chinese Studies. In collaboration with the Institute of Peace and Conflict Studies and the Konrad Adenauer Foundation a two-day conference was held on 'SAARC: Towards Greater Connectivity', which addressed the need for connectivity in the areas of development of a complementary infrastructure, trade in goods and services, energy and harmonization of resources, peoples and ideas.

Media

As part of the annual Chameli Devi awards programme, a discussion was organised on Media Accountability with a distinguished panel comprising Justice G.R. Ray, Shri Soli Sorabjee, Ms Sunita Narain and Ms Sevanti Ninan.

Other interesting and very popular discussions were: 'Is Editorial Independence for Real in India?' in which senior editors such as Shri Vinod Mehta, Shri Chaitanya Kalbag and Shri Nihal Singh participated; and the 'Women's Press Corps goes to China', a lively account by women journalists of their trip to China.

Polity and Governance

In collaboration with the Sidney Sussex College, University of Cambridge, a two-day international seminar on 'Politics and Religion in India' was held. The purpose of the seminar was to contribute to a reasoned debate on how politics and religion interact in Indian society. People from across the political spectrum, from the Universities, the media and public were invited to share their views. The three discussions were: 'What Role Does Religion Play in India's National Identity?'; 'Does Indian Secularism Have a Future?', and 'Has the Politicisation of Religion in the Subcontinent had a Positive or Negative Effect on Relations between India and Pakistan?'

Among the other seminars were: 'Media and Good Governance'; a three-day international seminar on 'The Politics of Belonging in the Himalayas: Democracy, Citizenship and Belonging in the Himalayas', in collaboration with the University of Bielefeld (Germany) and the Centre de Sciences Humaines, Delhi; and a half-day discussion on 'Urban Poverty and Governance in Asia', with case studies of Delhi, Shanghai and Bangkok, which was organised in collaboration with the Association of Asia Scholars.

Some noteworthy lectures were: 'Hindu Nationalism: Past and Present' by Prof. Christophe Jaffrelot; 'The Clash Within—Modern Democracies and the Source of Religious Violence' by Prof. Martha Nussbaum; 'Simply Not Done—An Enquiry into Inner and Outer Restraint' by Shri Gopalkrishna Gandhi; and a discussion on the 'Independence of the Judiciary in South Asia'.

Science and Technology

DIMENSIONS OF SCIENCE, the series of popular sciences lectures and discussions which was started several years ago in collaboration with NISTADS, presented a seminar on 'Indian Universities—Research and Education' to mark the 150th anniversary of the Indian university system; talks were held on: 'Saving the Girl Child'; 'Heavy Metals in Ayurveda'; 'Deskilled Society—Manpower Requirements of the Service Sector'; and 'Science Education in the New Economic Scenario'.

In a special lecture on 'Nobel Prizes in the Natural Sciences: What are They About?' three young scientists explained the discoveries in physics, chemistry and biotechnology which have been recognized for Nobel awards; this is an annual lecture series aimed at schools also and is held in December.

To mark the centenary of the eminent agro-scientist, Dr B.P. Pal, a lecture was delivered by Prof. M. S. Swaminathan on 'Genome Saviours—Guardians of Food Security'. A small exhibition on the life and work of Dr Pal was also organized.

Security

A study group on Security has been initiated under the convenorship of Cmdr C. Uday Bhaskar. The first discussion was on 'Politico-Military and Strategic Challenges to National Security' led by Admiral Arun Prakash.

Programmes on the theme included a discussion/memorial meeting: 'India and UN Peacekeeping—Recalling Maj. Gen. Indar Jit Rikhye', and talks on: 'Pursuing US—India Technology Cooperation: Practical Recommendations' by Dr Anupam Srivastav; 'Police Reforms in India' by Shri Prakash Singh; 'Managing India's Diversity' by Shri B. G. Verghese, who had worked on a project on Non-

Traditional Security for the Delhi Policy Group; in addition there was a talk on 'The Responsibility to Protect-Prosecute?' by Prof. Ramesh Thakur; and a discussion on 'Pakistan's Nuclear Wal-Mart and its Patrons'.

Societal Issues

Some interesting talks and discussions centering on societal issues were: 'Implications of Human Trafficking: Secret Censors, Public Solutions' by the legendary Gloria Steinem, feminist, activist and founder, MS magazine, which was a part of the Women's World Colloquium organised by Women Unlimited; 'Women and War' by Prof. Benedetta Bini, an Italian historian researching on women's writings during World War II; 'Civil War in Central India' by Dr Nandini Sundar; the Durgabai Deshmukh Memorial Lecture by Smt. Mahasweta Devi on 'Fundamental Human Rights for the Nautch Girls of Purulia'; 'Serving Mankind through Sustainable Energy' by Ashden Awardee Dr Vidya Sagar of Bangalore; and a lecture by the eminent Gandhian social worker, Smt. Ela Bhatt on 'Towards Economic Freedom: The SEWA Journey'.

Urban issues attracted a great deal of attention, especially those relating to Delhi as it prepares for the 2010 Commonwealth Games. A day-long seminar was held on 'Delhi's Master Plan', organised by the Urban Arts Commission, which concluded with a public programme in collaboration with IIC which was introduced by Shri Charles Correa, Chairman, Delhi Urban Arts Commission. The speakers were Dr P.S. Rana, Prof. Dinesh Mohan, Prof. A.G.K. Menon and Shri E.F.N. Ribeiro.

Visual Arts, Performing Arts and Films

Performing Arts

The Centre's activities in the performing arts focus on the traditional or classical, the folk or popular forms and more recently on 'fusion' or what derives from world music. At another level the Centre also provides a platform for up-coming and unknown artistes.

This is the second year the Centre has joined Natya Vriksha in observing World Dance Day. This year a half-day seminar on 'Bhootam-Bhavyam-Bhavishyam', an assessment of Indian classical dance through the prism of yesterday, today and tomorrow, was organised. The keynote address was delivered by Smt. Mrinalini Sarabhai, eminent dancer, choreographer and activist who reflected on more than five decades of her life and work in the world of dance. Well-known senior dancer, Smt. Geeta Chandran, presented a Bharatanatyam recital to conclude the celebrations.

In keeping with the traditional the well-known dancer, Ms Alarmel Valli, presented an evening of padams and javalis in Bharatanatyam as a homage to the late Carnatic vocalist, T. Muktha.

Indian classical dance performances included a number of path-breaking choreographic pieces by both senior and junior artistes. These included 'Krishna Krishna Namaha'—Sattriya dance from Assam presented by Mr. Prateesha Sharma; 'Mohanam'—an experimental piece in Odissi and Manipuri dance styles with Gotipua artistes; and 'Pung Cholom' conceptualized, choreographed and presented by Ms Piyali De and Ms Suman Sarawgi; 'Rudraksh—Choreographic Compositions in Kathak', presented by Ms Moumala and Ms Monisa Nayak; 'Suddha Nrita—Cross-Rhythm Technique in Nritta and Nattuvangam', an unusual lecture-demonstration conceived and presented by Ms Prakriti Bhaskar. Mohiniattam recitals were presented by senior artists like Dr Deepti Omchery Bhalla, Ms Jayaprabha Menon and Ms Chithra Sukumaran.

Some of the young and promising artistes who performed included Bharatanatyam dancers Ms Divya Saluja, Ms Mythili Prakash, and Ms Priya Venkataraman. Odissi dancers Ms Nandini Ghoshal, Ms Sunanda Banerjee, and Ms Prachi Mehta from Mumbai presented an unusual choreography. Kathak recitals were given by Ms Nandini Sinha, and a duet by Ms Rashmi Uppal and Ms Gauri Diwakar. In Kuchipudi the presentations were by Ms Uma Murali Krishna, Ms Yamini Reddy, and Ms Hemamalini Chavali.

Some outstanding Hindustani music recitals were presented by, among others, Mr. Sounak Chattopadhyay, Ms Gauri-Damle Pathare, Shri Ravi Joshi and Ms Manjari Asnare-Kelkar (vocal); Kalaimamani Dr M. Narmada (violin); Shri Suddhashil Chatterjee (santoor); Mr. Debapriya Thakur (sitar); Shri Rajat Prasanna (flute); Shri Pratap Kumar (sarod); and a sitar and surbahar concert by Shri Jagdeep Singh Bedi.

Although the number of Carnatic music forms presented were less this year, nevertheless the few presented were of a very high order and these included 'Dhwani—A Percussion Ensemble' led by Shri Lalgudi R. Sriganesh and party; vocal recitals by Shri R. Suryaprakash and Smt. Vidya Srinivasan; violin duet by Shri Lalgudi G.J.R. Krishnan and Smt. Lalgudi Vijayalakshmi, son and daughter of renowned Carnatic violinist, Shri Lalgudi Jayaram; and a veena recital by Smt. Kalyani Lakshminarayana.

In collaboration with Seher, the Centre presented an outstanding concert of qawwalis by Ustad Fareed Ayaz Hussaini and Brothers from Pakistan in the Fountain Lawns. The artists, who trace their lineage to the first disciple of Hazrat Amir Khusro, presented a repertoire that included Sufi compositions in Arabic, Persian, Urdu and Hindi. Traditional folk balladeers from Madhya Pradesh, Shri Rajesh Litoria and Shri Vinod Mishra, presented an unusual and rarely heard 'Hardol Katha Gayan: Ballad of the Bundela Prince Hardol'.

The 60th death anniversary of Gandhiji was commemorated in collaboration with the Sarvodaya International Trust, with the Delhi Gandharva Mahavidyalaya Choir rendering some of Gandhiji's favourite bhajans. The well-known American Civil Rights activist, Rev. Jesse Jackson, spoke on the occasion about Gandhi's message of peace and its relevance to contemporary times.

The IIC collaborates regularly with Impresario India in featuring artistes from eastern India and a very unusual concert by soprano singer Ms Sinjini Acharya Mazumdar entitled, 'The Influence of Western Tune and Folk Melodies on Rabindra Sangeet', was presented.

In Western music forms, this year there was a rich variety and range of fare offered through concerts and solo recitals that featured leading musicians from all over the world and from India as well. Some of the highlights are: a 'Piano Recital' by Mr. Joseph Banowetz, internationally renowned artist; an unusual concert, 'Mozart-Piano and Lieder' by Mr. Justin McCarthy with young upcoming vocalist, Ms. Sara Chatterjee; 'Water', piano recital with poetic comments by Dutch pianist, Ms Monique Copper; a violin-piano duet by Ms Silvia Crastan and Ms Eva Crastan from Switzerland; and a cello-piano duet by Ms Berthine van Schoor and Prof. Albie van Schalkwyk from South Africa.

To commemorate the 125th birth anniversary of Zoltán Kodály (1882-1967), eminent Hungarian composer, musician and ethnomusicologist, three different concerts were held to highlight the diverse range of musical forms that Kodály had specialized in. Organised in collaboration with the Hungarian Information and Cultural Centre, the concerts included a presentation of Folk Music by the Hungarian State Folk Ensemble Orchestra.

Other concerts presented included the very popular, 'Autumn Festival of Western Classical Music—Chamber Music and Opera Arias and Songs from Musical Theatre', presented by the Delhi Opera Ensemble with Ms Situ Singh Buehler, conducted by Ms Gabriella B. Rechner; and 'Music for Christmas' featuring young, upcoming singers of the Canticle Choir group led by Mr. Pramod Kingston.

The music programmes also included an illustrated lecture with recorded music, 'Jazz for All' by Shri Soli Sorabjee and Shri Ratan Sehgal; a concert by The Dutch Jazz Concert Quartet. The 'Turkish Folk Music Concert' by Muammar Ketencoglu Folk Trio from Istanbul comprised a repertoire of folk songs and tunes from Turkey and the Balkans; while 'Whirling Dervishes: A Sema Performance' was performed by a 16-member traditional troupe from Turkey.

The Centre had the privilege to present three distinctive and immensely popular programmes on Flamenco, the most popular of these being the 'Romali-Flamenco' by world renowned artist Ms Manuela Carrasco and group from Spain.

A concert entitled 'Rock the Boat', featuring artists from SAARC countries was held to mark the launch of the UNDP, UNFPA and UNIFEM joint Asia Pacific programme called 'Partners for Prevention—Working with Boys and Men to Prevent Gender-based Violence'. Traditional qawwals from Pakistan and fusion bands from Bangladesh, Nepal and India came together with their music on this occasion. Several NGOs collaborated in an afternoon programme in the Gandhi-King Plaza entitled, 'Celebrating and Defending Human Rights in South Asia', which comprised talks, poetry, music, video clips and exhibitions.

The series of recorded operas, concerts and ballets screened over the summer months continued to draw large audiences. Aimez-vous l'Opera? (Do you love Opera?) comprised four lectures on a selection of well-known operas delivered by Dr R. P. Jain. Each lecture was followed by a screening. 'A June Interlude of Operas, Concerts and Ballets' featured a set of three films from each of these sections and included two interpretations—classical and contemporary, of Tchaikovsky's well-loved ballet, The Nutcracker.

In theatre, Yatrik presented a work-in-progress, 'Chaos Theory' by Mr. Anuvab Pal, directed by Mr. Sunit Tandon. Ms Sarita Vohra and Living Room Theatre presented two social awareness productions which drew capacity audiences, namely, Mr & Mrs Nayar, which dealt with the travails of living and coping with thalassaemia, with humour underpinning a serious context, and MallaiKaSherraffat@oldagehome.com, a tongue-in-cheek theatre commentary on contemporary issues facing the aged. The SAARC Day of the Girl Child focused on the 'Portrayal of the Older Girl Child in Indian Theatre', and this included an interactive play by Ms Tripurari Sharma.

The immensely popular year-long series of programmes, FOCUS on DELHI, concluded with Dehli ki Aakhri Shama-The Last Mush'aira of Delhi, a poetic-re-enactment of the atmosphere in the last Mughal court. It drew a full house.

Exhibitions

The exhibitions this year centered on different forms, stylistic genres and media to interpret the formal, the traditional as well as the contemporary. A series entitled WORLD PRESS CARTOON 2006 included the award-winning entries to the World Press Cartoon competitions held in Sintra, Portugal.

As in past years, exhibitions continued to focus on works by leading and upcoming photographers from India and abroad, both as a form of visual record and documentation and also as a personal, singular engagement of expression. 'Children of the World' were photographs by Ms Flore Lamoureaux, using the unusual medium of light boxes suspended from trees in the Gandhi-King Plaza. Mr. Kushal Gangopadhyay's, 'The Great Indian Bazaar', an exhibition of black and white photographs documented the notional journey from the world of the small, remote, weekly village marketplaces to modern supermarkets. 'Time Guards' (Guardians del Tiempo), photographs by Mr. Javier Hinojosa from Mexico were a stunning and evocative record of archaeological sites in Mexico. Taking off from very different perspectives on Delhi were two exhibitions held simultaneously by two leading photographers—Ms Gauri Gill with her black and white series, 'Nizamuddin at Night' and Mr. Sunil Gupta with his colour series, 'Tales of a City—Delhi'. Curated by Mrs. Radhika Singh of Fotomedia, the works captured each artist's personal yet critical engagement with the city. 'Drokpa: The World of Tibetan Nomads', an exhibition of photographs by Mr. David Miller, recorded an increasingly rare and rapidly disappearing world of Tibetan nomads. Having photographed the nomads over a period of thirty years, and having travelled and lived in their midst, Mr. Miller spoke about some of his experiences in the lecture accompanying. Mr. Bijoy Chowdhury documented one of the oldest living art forms of rural West Bengal as a tribute to the surviving practitioners, in the exhibition on 'The Living God-Bohurupi: A Folk Art to Remember'.

The Centre collaborated with the Embassy of France and the Alliance Française Network in India to organise a two-day discussion on 'In Focus: Indian Photography' as part of the year-long initiative on 'Photo Now 2008: A Platform for Photography in India'. The discussions and debates examined critical issues regarding the status of photography. Presentations were made by leading experts, practitioners and professionals from India and abroad. The discussions drew a large and active participation of students from photography schools.

Exhibitions which employed traditional folk forms, motifs and narratives of Adivasi myths to interpret contemporary issues like ecology and environment included Shri Nihar Majumdar's 'Rajbhansi Folk Painting of Sub-Himalayan West Bengal', and 'Beginning of the Genesis', the joint effort of three artists belonging to DHARA (a socio-eco-cultural research and communication syndicate based in Bhubaneswar, Orissa). The world of folk and tribal arts from India to the Middle East, South-East Asia and Africa was presented in 'The World of Sankho Chaudhuri'. A unique collection of art and artifacts, the objects on display represented both the secular and sacred traditions of village culture, objects of daily use and hand-woven fabric pieces. This eclectic assemblage had been collected over several decades by the renowned sculptor, Shri Sankho Chaudhuri, whose aesthetic sensibilities embraced the commonplace.

Departing from the experimental and the folk, the works of three senior and very distinguished artists presented during the year brought to the fore the enduring power and appeal of the formal convention. These were Jhupu Adhikari's 'Face to Face', a collection of paintings in different mediums, 'Dynamic', abstract works in oil by Ms Ronny Goerner from Austria, and 'India in the Era of Moghals', limited edition graphic prints by Mr. Maqbool Fida Husain, created as a tribute to the history of Indian cinema.

Other exhibitions included 'Shahjahanabad—A Journey Through Old Delhi', drawings and sketches by Mr. Vikram Kalra; 'Speed'—paintings in oil, acrylic and mixed media by Mr. Pranab Basu; and 'Contemporary Graphic Art from Hungary' showcasing the works of some of the most prominent graphic artists of Hungary.

Documentary Films

The Centre is the platform of choice for many directors to premiere new productions and present experimental works or works in progress. It has become over the past few years a base which allows documentary film makers from India and abroad to present their work. The films presented this year covered diverse subjects, like strife, conflict and governance; questions of identity, self and sexuality; re-visiting sites of contestation and history; iconic personalities; and studies on conservation policies and practices that are in place. In many instances, the directors of the films were themselves present during the screenings, to introduce their films and engage in lively debates; some of the screenings were followed by panel discussions around issues raised in the film. Many of the films presented were of a very high standard, well researched, imaginatively narrated and informed.

The films screened included Dead in the Water by Christopher Mitchell; Tiger—The Death Chronicles, by Mr. Krishnendu Bose; an award-winning film, Ambi Jiji's Retirement by Ms Nandini Bedi; Jahaji Music—India in the Caribbean by Ms Surabhi Sharma. One of the films, Taza Khabar—Hot Off the Press! featured the unique experience of a group of rural, mostly Dalit, women. El Che: Investing a Legend was instead a documentary on the legendary rise of Che Guevara.

Reflecting on the nation-state after six decades of independence were several films that questioned, provoked and demanded from both the film maker and the viewer the need to introspect. These included Manipur Song—A Film in the Making by Mr. Pankaj Butalia; Ayodhya Gatha—Tales from Ayodhya by Ms. Vani Subramanian; The Sky Below, Ms Sarah Singh's award winning-film; and multiple award-winning director, Mr. Amar Kanwar's The Lightning Testimonies.

SPAIN IN SHORT: A FESTIVAL OF ANIMATION AND SHORT FILMS presented award-winning films from the Basque country and the Catalonian region of Spain. The festival also included a two-day workshop on Sand Animation techniques by Ms Isabel Heguera, leading Spanish animator. 'The Tallest Story Competition (Tales of the Tribe)', included a screening of five short animation films based on stories and artistic styles from tribes of central India. It explored ways of presenting traditional culture to a younger generation and developing animation that is more authentic to Indian artistic practices. Coordinated and introduced by Ms Tara Douglas, Adivasi Arts Trust, UK, and Animator, the programme included a presentation of music and dance by a Santhal Band and an exhibition of some of the paintings used in the films.

The monthly screening of films on ecology and environment organised in collaboration with the World Wide Fund for Nature-India included a number of films which focused on the history and evolution of the universe, studies of animal behaviour and life-cycle patterns, and the planetary systems.

Film Club

This year, the Film Club programmes included screening of world cinema classics by leading film makers as well as new feature films by contemporary directors from India and abroad. While many of the classics provided the opportunity to re-visit and assess afresh some old favourites, the contemporary film makers opened up new avenues in filmic language, structure and narrative device, moving beyond celluloid to high-definition digital. On popular demand, the year opened with a second edition of SILVER CANVAS—FILMS ON ARTISTS: II. The five films presented in this set explored critical junctures in the lives of the artists and two of the films focused on the troubled life of Vincent van Gogh, namely, Robert Altman's Vincent and Theo; and Maurice Pialat's Van Gogh. The series was curated by Shri Om Thanvi, Editor, Jansatta and member of the Centre.

For the first time, the Film Club presented a FESTIVAL OF FILMS FROM PALESTINE which included short features and documentaries looking at the new face of Palestine through the works of young directors. While some of the films reflected and explored current political realities and the surreal nature of the daily life of ordinary people in the occupied West Bank, others like Goal Dreams by Ms Maya Sabar and Mr. Jeffrey Saunders focused on issues of national and personal identity.

FOCUS ON HUNGARIAN FILMS presented films from the eighties to the contemporary, before the collapse of Communism, with film makers searching for an identity and ways to express themselves. REVISITING ITALIAN MASTERS OF CINEMA was a series of six feature films like Mr. Vittorio de Sica's simple yet moving masterpiece, Bicycle Thieves (Ladri di Biciclette), Mr. Federico Fellini's Roma, a benchmark film of the Italian New Wave cinema, and Mr. Ermanno Olmi's epic masterpiece, The Tree of Wooden Clogs (L' Albero degli Zoccoli).

FILMS FROM ASIA focused on award-winning new and cutting edge films by directors like Mr. Zhuangzhuang Tian from China/Hongkong with The Blue Kite (Lan Feng Zheng); Mr. Nonzee Nimibutr from Thailand with his chilling love-story Nang-Nak; and Mr. Siddiq Barmak's compelling parable about female suffering and religious extremism under the Taliban regime in Afghanistan, Osama. One of the leading figures in contemporary Spanish films, and particularly Basque cinema, Mr. Julio Medem's RETROSPECTIVE presented six feature films and a political documentary. His films are noted for their meticulous framing and radical juxtaposition of time, place and perspective and an ongoing fascination with the subconscious.

THE MASTER STORYTELLER: REVISITING RAY focused on six films which have not been screened often including Kanchenjunga (1962), Shri Satyajit Ray's first original screenplay and first colour feature which, for its time, was one of the most innovative and experimental in style and content with no straight narrative.

The Film Club in collaboration with Himalaya Films presented a tribute to one of Hindi cinema's pioneering film makers, the critically acclaimed actor-director, Mr. Chetan Anand. The retrospective included six seminal features as well as Mr. Ketan Anand's film on his father entitled, Chetan Anand—The Poetics of Film. Two new films from the northeast region were premiered as part of Film Club programmes—Joymati (Assam) by Manju Borah, and the first feature film from Arunachal Pradesh, Sonam (The Fortunate One), by Ahsan Muzid. Both film makers were present to introduce their films and to lead the discussion that followed the screening.

The world of cinema was poorer for the loss of two path-breaking luminaries who have left an indelible imprint on the world of ideas—Ingmar Bergman (1918-2007) and Michelangelo Antonioni (1912-2007). As a tribute to the two directors, the Film Club screened Bergman's seminal film, Wild Strawberries (Smultronstället), and Antonioni's gripping murder-mystery, The Adventure (L'Avventura).

Special screenings included the first internationally recognized feature film by a Tibetan exploring the contemporary reality of Tibet, Dreaming Lhasa, directed by Ms Ritu Sarin and Mr. Tenzing Sonam, who were both present to introduce the film. Two new Indian feature films wove socially relevant issues around everyday stories. Kaal Chakra (Circle of Life) in Marathi by Shri Avinash Onkar focused on the reality of living with HIV Positive. The screening was followed by a lively debate with the director and audience on many of the issues raised in the film. Bewaqt Baarish—The Untimely Rain by Ms Sumitra Bhawe and Mr. Sunil Sukthankar used the metaphor of rain for young people's exploration of love and sexuality in rural areas.

C. D. Deshmukh Memorial Lecture

The C. D. Deshmukh Memorial Lecture for 2008 was delivered by Dr Shashi Tharoor on 'The Soft Power of India'. Dr Tharoor stated that we have to preserve the precious pluralism that is such a civilisational asset in our globalising world. He further added that we should give attention, encouragement and active support to the aspects and products of Indian society and culture that the world would find attractive, not in order directly to persuade others to support India but rather to enhance our country's intangible standing.

Annual Day

The Centre hosted a rare Bharatanatyam recital by Mr. Aniruddha Knight, grandson of the legendary T. Balasaraswati, on its Annual day. Entitled 'From the Heart of a Tradition' the performance retained several specific characteristics distinguishable in Balasaraswati's art, where dancers were also trained to be musicians. The solo dance performance by Mr. Knight followed the traditional concert format and presented rarely performed pieces from Balasaraswati's repertoire. The ensemble performed a single style of music, identified with the great musician Vina Dhanammal (1867-1938), Balasaraswati's grandmother.

IIC-Asia Project

As in the past, the IIC continued to focus on matters relating to Asia through its Asia Project.

A major programme of the IIC-Asia Project during the year was a multi-disciplinary, international seminar-cum-exhibition, with demonstrations and performances on the theme of, 'The Culture of Indigo: Exploring the Asian Panorama—Aspects of Plant, Product and Power' organised from 29 November to 1 December 2007. The concept of the seminar sought to explore the different dimensions of the Indigo plant and the Indigo dye with a view to underlining the importance of indigo in the relations between Asian countries at the level of botany, international trade, politico-economic movements of protests and freedom movements.

The seminar was divided into four sub-themes, viz., 'Indigo: Plant and Scientific Dimensions'; 'Product: Archaeology, Ethnology'; 'Profit and Power: a Global Trade before Globalization'; and 'Indigo-Contemporary issues'.

A very distinguished panel of botanists and scientists presented papers on the economically important plant family, Leguminosae, and the special role of the indigofera species for India. Many hitherto unexplored aspects of the indigo and other blue dye yielding plants and their spread and the scientific dimensions of the evolution of Indigo in the 19th century were discussed in detail. (Indigo's constitution was elucidated during 1866-83 by Adolf von Baeyer of the University of Munich, who was later awarded the Nobel prize in 1905).

In the section on 'Product:Archaeology, Ethnology', the discussion revolved around the unparalleled role of indigo in antiquity and brought forth the active trade between India and West Asia as also India and South-east, South and East Asia. New and interesting materials were presented on archaeological finds of the pre-colonial period as also evidence of kilns in the colonial period.

Most engaging was the discussion in the section 'Profit and Power: A Global Trade before Globalisation'. Here the socio-political history of indigo in the pre-colonial and the colonial period was highlighted. It was clear that Indigo played an important role in the colonization processes as also the consequent protest and freedom movements, besides the most important one of Gandhiji's movement in Champaran.

In the section on 'Indigo: Contemporary Issues' there were papers which addressed the history of the evolution of synthetic indigo and the consequences of a globalised world represented by denim apparel, especially jeans.

Pertinently, His Excellency Shri Gopalkrishna Gandhi, Governor of West Bengal, inaugurated the seminar. In his inaugural address he said: 'I started off with deep doubt on whether the conference on indigo, on a plant, on a dye, on a colour would be viable but following some essential reading realized that ... the story of indigo is the story of marginalization-an attempted marginalization of Indian peasants by British planters by certain captains of Western industry, of that industry and by new changes in European technologies in chemical synthesizing. It is the story of the marginalisation of the hand-crafted by the mass-produced, of colour by coloration, of the good earth's pigment by a value neutral laboratory's canned or caked product in paints. It is also, inevitably, about the marginalisation of peasants, planters, farms, factories, industry, commerce and technology-all put together-by imperial power and colonial expansion. And it is the story of resistance to all those marginalisations'

The exhibition as also the demonstrations complemented the discussions in the seminar by rare visual material. The exhibition was divided into a number of sections: The botany and phytochemistry of indigo; the processing of the plant to the dye; Indigo in antiquity; trade, plantations and politics; emergence of synthetic indigo; and Indigo and the Arts. The highlight of the exhibits, which included live indigo plants brought by the Botanical Survey of India, was an exquisite display of traditional and modern fabrics dyed with indigo, representing different craft practices in India. Ms Meena Gupta, Secretary, Ministry of Environment and Forests, Government of India, inaugurated the exhibition. The live demonstrations of the processes of extraction of indigo and other dyes in traditional and factory-scale practices in Indonesia, Thailand, Nagaland and Tamil Nadu fascinated the participants and the visitors.

The two performances held in the evening were appropriately related to the theme of indigo. One was a programme of music and dance from Nagaland presented by the North-East Zone Cultural Centre. Dr Pavan K. Varma, Director-General, Indian Council for Cultural Relations, was the chief guest. In his address he elucidated on the importance of the culture of the north-east as an integral part of the Indian cultural heritage in the past and the present. The second performance was a dramatized reading from the play Neel Darpan written by Dinabandhu Mitra in Bengali in 1860. This was the first voice of protest via a play which had evoked strong reactions, positive and negative. Shri Suresh Sharma guided this presentation by the National School of Drama Repertory. Dr Mridula Mukherjee, Director, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library and a specialist in the history of peasant movements, who was the chief guest, also drew attention to the role of indigo in pre-colonial and colonial history.

The seminar, which was organised in association with the Indian Council for Cultural Relations and the Indian Council of Historical Research, was attended by about forty delegates from India and abroad, drawn from among scientists, crafts people, designers, political-economic historians, etc. The participation of the delegates from abroad was facilitated by the Indian Council for Cultural Relations, to whom IIC-Asia Project is deeply obliged.

In February 2007 the IIC-Asia Project collaborated with Zakir Hussain College, Delhi University, in organizing an international seminar on 'Culture Diversity in South Asia—Literary Confluence and Divergence'. Presiding over the seminar, the Chairperson, Asia Project emphasized the need for interrogation of the geo-political and civilisational entity called Asia. Asia has to be seen as a whole lot of multiple streams flowing from the Far-East to the South and then to the western regions of Asia; it included means of communication that went beyond political boundaries of nations and the economic trade routes.

On June 14, 2007 Dr Karan Singh released the volume, Sacred Landscapes: Shared Traditions, Multiple Histories, which is based on the two preparatory seminars held on Aesthetic Discourses in Asia, under the auspices of IIC-Asia Project as also on invited contributions. The volume has been edited by Dr Himanshu Prabha Ray of JNU and published by Manohar. The release was followed by a discussion.

Three other publications based on programmes of the IIC-Asia Project which are in the pipeline and which would come out during the calendar year are: Anthology of Asian Women's Writings; Transmissions and Transformations: Learning through the Arts in Asia and Sui Dhaga: Crossing Boundaries through Needle and Thread.

A two-day festival of documentary films by Asian women film makers on the theme 'Insights and Aspirations' will be held on March 7-8, in collaboration with the International Association of Women in Radio and Television (IAWRT).

Indo-Bangladesh Dialogue

As part of the on-going Indo-Bangladesh Dialogue, three meetings were held in 2007, two in Dhaka, at the Centre for Policy Dialogue, and one in Delhi, before the conclusion of the Dialogue.

The first theme taken up in the Dialogue series was 'Economic Cooperation' in the respective seminars in Delhi in January 2005 and in Dhaka in August 2005, joint recommendations of which were brought out and circulated.

The first part of the second theme 'Media and Culture' was taken up at the India International Centre in January 2006 and the second part at Dhaka in March 2007. The focus of the meetings was to devise ways and means of increasing understanding between the two countries, and how this could be better facilitated through media and culture. Towards this end the Dialogue considered the mutual images coming through the print and electronic media presently, and considered steps to create a more positive environment. The Dialogue also considered areas for collaboration in the broad field of Culture, including music, dance, theatre, literature, arts and crafts, architecture, etc. An outcome of this was the Indo-Bangla Cultural Initiative which pledged to produce programmes of mutual cultural interest to both countries.

The third theme of the current series of Dialogues on 'Politics and Security' was taken up in September. The last Dialogue was taken up in December this year, and covered the broad subjects of co-operation in the development of natural resources, including water resources, co-operation for industrial development and connectivity.

The conclusions of the discussions will be circulated. It is also proposed to publish in book form a summary of the discussions and the agreed recommendations.

Nature Group Programmes

The IIC Nature Group, formed in February 2007, organised a number of very interesting programmes in 2007: a Bird Walk in the IIC campus conducted by Mr. Peter Kaestner; a Tree Walk with Prof. H.Y. Mohan Ram; a guided tour of the Mughal Gardens with Shri S.K. Mathur, the Centre's Garden Consultant. Renowned wildlife filmmakers and photographers, Rajesh and Naresh Bedi, screened a film on India's Asiatic Lion; Mr. Manoj Misra held a meeting on 'Delhi's Heritage Threatened: Save the Jamuna'; Shri Bhagat Singh, wildlife photographer, recounted his experiences in a talk entitled 'The World of Bird Photography'; Mr. Rahul Butalia, Proprietor of Rubbabu Toys, spoke on 'Green Manufacturing is Possible and Profitable: A Toy Manufacturer's Story'.

A novel initiative was the celebration of Children's Day on 14 November, which is also late Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru's birthday. The children/grandchildren of IIC members and IIC staff were invited for an evening of screenings of nature films by the Bedi Brothers and by Mr. Mike Pandey, and for nature walks in the campus under the guidance of two experts, Mr. Sharad Gaur from the Centre for Environment Education and Mr. T. K. Sajeew from the Bombay Natural History Society's Conservation Education Centre, Asola Wildlife Sanctuary. The evening ended with a sumptuous tea and gifts for the approximately seventy participating children and their accompanying parents/grandparents.

The discovery in May of peahens hatching their eggs in the window ledges of the IIC Annexe Lounge and Dining Room, 25-30 ft above the ground, became an area of key activity of the Nature Group, more so as the Peacock is India's National Bird. The Nature Group, with the help of the IIC-Annexe Staff, nurtured a peahen and its three chicks till such time that they were grown enough to protect themselves. The peahen and its chicks were officially released during National Wildlife Week by Chief Minister Shiela Dikshit on 6 October 2007. Simultaneous with the nurturing period of the birds, between May and October, a number of programmes and screenings relating to peahens were arranged in the Centre. A short film on this phenomenon has also been made by the Bedi Brothers, who have gifted a copy to the Nature Group.

Lately, a public awareness programme was held to focus attention on large-scale mortality of Gharials in some parts of River Chambal. On the occasion the Bedi Brothers issued an appeal for the protection of the species and also screened a documentary.

Publications

IIC Quarterly

The last one year has seen the publication of three volumes of the IIC Quarterly and a substantial increase in the number of subscribers from 2,300 to 2,750, both in India and abroad.

The year began with the launch of the theme volume, Winter 2006—Spring 2007, India 60 that was co-published as a book with Harper Collins, titled India 60: Towards a New Paradigm. Eminent writers, both in India and abroad—Lord Meghnad Desai, Shri Inder Malhotra, Prof. Kanti Bajpai, Mr. Mark Tully, Dr Kapila Vatsyayan, among others—examined a wide spectrum of events and activities that included political, economic, educational, sociological and cultural issues over the last six decades. The book was formally launched on 26 May 2007 and received acclaim. It was the first theme volume of the IIC Quarterly to be included in the Top 10 list of non-fiction of India Today.

This issue of the Quarterly underwent a change in its format, bringing in a more compact, reader-friendly size, and using environmentally friendly paper, along with a change of typeface, fonts and design.

The Summer Volume 2007 offered a special niche on the Uprising of 1857, illustrated by a selection of prints and photographs from the Alkazi Collection. Other issues examined the ethical underpinnings of globalization, and reflections on terrorism. An unusual addition to this issue was the use of an excerpt from a graphic novel, for the first time.

The Autumn Volume, 2007, was launched as part of the IIC Experience: A Festival of the Arts, on 26 October 2007. The issue commemorated the centenary of the Satyagraha movement and carried articles on Gandhi, the Father of the Nation. Among the contributors were two members of his family who discussed Gandhi as both father and husband. Other writers such as Shiv Visvanathan, Mr. Dilip Simeon and Shri Acharya Rammurti explored various aspects of the Gandhian legacy. The issue also carries interviews with Smt. Mrinalini Sarabhai, Ebba Koch and Gloria Steinem.

IIC Diary

The IIC Diary has adopted a new format and programmes selected for review have been covered and analysed.

A special issue was devoted to the IIC Festival held at the end of October.

Other Publications

The proceedings of the annual 'Mid-Year Review of the Indian Economy 2007-08' seminar by Dr Rajiv Kumar of ICRIER were co-published with Shipra Publications in February 2008. The volume was brought out in time to make it available to academics and researchers ahead of the presentation of the national budget, which remains the aim of this publication. The Malcolm and Elizabeth Adiseshiah Trust, based in Chennai, has been supporting this initiative of the Centre since 2001 in memory of late Prof. Malcolm Adiseshiah, distinguished economist and Convenor of the Economic Affairs Group, who had initiated this annual seminar at the Centre in 1983.

During 2007 both the projects relating to the two nature books of the Centre, Birds of IIC and Trees of IIC, were completed with the publication of two books. An indication of the popularity of IIC's nature books is the fact that the co-publisher of the Birds of IIC, Wisdom Tree Publications, bought its commercial rights and placed it in the market with a slight change of title and with the addition of eight more bird species to the book. It is now available in the bookshops as The Garden Birds of Delhi, Agra, Jaipur.

The Trees of IIC was released during the IIC Festival in October 2007, exactly a year after the release of the Birds of IIC during the IIC Festival of October 2006. The author of both the books, Shri Samar Singh, had conducted extensive research on bird species that visit the Centre as well as on the trees that have been planted in the campus, prior to writing the text for both the publications. Pictures for the Birds of IIC were sourced from two external photographers of renown, Mr. Amano Samarpan (based in the UK) and Mr. Nikhil Devasar of the Delhi Bird Club. Pictures for the Trees of IIC were acquired from Mr. Pradip Krishen, author of a bestselling title on the trees of Delhi and also a member of the Centre. Both the nature books have proved very popular with the members of the Centre and are showing brisk sales.

The volume, Ecological Security: The Foundation of Sustainable Development, edited by Mr. Samar Singh, comprises a series of lectures organised by the Centre and is published by Shipra Publications (2006). It was reprinted as a special paperback edition in 2007 for teacher-training institutions all over India.

Library

The Library services are being regularly used by members, residents and temporary members of the Centre. During the year, Library members have been increasingly using Internet resources, a facility available free of charge to members and residents of the Centre. The Library has seven terminals which are exclusively available for members. To facilitate accessing internet resources by members Wi-Fi facility has also been introduced recently.

There are 3,263 members of the Centre who are registered users of the Library. Besides this, permission has also been given to 44 research scholars to use the Library facilities during the last year.

The Library added 927 new books to its stock. About 236 periodicals and newspapers were received from different parts of the world through subscriptions, exchange and gifts. The budget for books and periodicals has been increased from 15.5 lakhs to Rs 18 lakhs.

During the IIC Festival the Library took an active part in organising the exhibition of photographs by Shri Benoy K. Behl, 'The Monasteries of Rinchen Zangpo in Tibet and India'. About eighty photographs were displayed on a variety of themes including Murals, Temples, Stupas, Portraits and the Monasteries of Kashmir, Ladakh, Kinnaur, Spiti and Tibet. The exhibition was highly appreciated by the viewers.

The Book Discussion Programmes this year were also popular. Eleven programmes were organised during the year. Authors whose books were discussed included Shri Jawaid Alam, Dr D. P. Chattopadhyaya, Shri Anuj Dhar, Dr Amrik Singh, Shri Pran Nevile, Sri Madhav Ashish, Dr B. R. Lall, Ms Papiya Ghosh, Shri Arun Shourie, Prof. Rudrangshu Mukherjee, Mr. Nitesh Sengupta, Mr. Prakash Nanda and Mr. Kishan S. Rana.

The 'Meet the Author' programme, organised in collaboration with the Sahitya Aakdemi, featured Mr. Uday Prakash, Mr. Mahesh Dattani, Mr. Manzoor Ahtesham, Mrs. Githa Hariharan and Shri Swayam Prakash.

The 'Informal Encounters' programme, which was organised in collaboration with the Poetry Society (India), continued with the programme, 'Rains', under the chairmanship of Shri Soli J. Sorabjee.

The Library organised poetry programmes in collaboration with the Poetry Society (India). These included readings by Mr. Amit Dahiyabadshah, Shri Shyam Singh Shashi, Dr A. N. D. Haksar, Mr. Eric Funkhouser, Mr. Raman Mundair, Ms Meena Alexander, Mr. Ganga Prasad Vimal and Mr. Kelvin Brown.

The Inter-Library Loan facility is being provided through the IIC library, DELNET and other libraries. Library Members interested in research and reference have greatly benefited from these services.

The Library introduced Library Membership for non-members. Bona fide scholars/ research students who find material on their topics available at the IIC Library are eligible to get enrolled as Library Members.

Code of Conduct of Members

Recurring complaints have been received regarding the conduct of some members that intrudes upon, and sometimes vitiates, the ambience of the Centre. These instances were discussed in a meeting of the Executive Committee and the Board of Trustees, whereupon the Board decided that a number of steps needed to be taken to arrest this disturbing trend. Steps taken were communicated to members in a Circular dated the 1st of August 2007 which included:

- (i) Members being required to carry membership cards to ensure that non-members do not use the dining facilities.

- (ii) Discontinuance of cash payments.
- (iii) Members being required to enter names of the guest in the guest register.
- (iv) Fines to be levied when cell phones are not switched off or not kept on vibrating mode.
- (v) The setting up of a Disciplinary Committee.

Revised Rules for Conversion from Associate Member

In the existing rules for conversion from Associate Member to Full Member the concerned member had to pay the difference in the membership fee for the two categories, which in some cases went up to Rs 12,000/-. This had acted as a deterrent, preventing many Associate Members from participating in the Annual General Body Meeting or in the election process, since they were not Full Members.

The Board of Trustees, therefore, decided in its meeting held on the 17th of March 2007 that for conversion from Associate Member to Full Member a member would be required to pay only the difference in the membership fee and the annual subscription of the two categories, as applicable during the year of conversion. At present the difference is around Rs. 5,000/-.

Members Get-Together

It has been decided to hold special get-togethers every quarter following large induction of members.

Revised Menus

At a number of meetings of the House Committee it was felt that the number of items being served at the various outlets of the Centre was too large. Meals provided by the Centre should be seen as only an appurtenant activity of the Centre and therefore an attempt should be made to provide food that was reasonably priced, economical, nutritious, and wholesome. The Menus were revised accordingly.

The Gardens

The garden staff devoted continued attention to maintaining the lawns and the gardens both at the Main Centre and the Annexe.

We are happy to inform the members that Shri S. K. Mathur, former Chief, Horticulture Department of the Rashtrapati Bhawan, has agreed to be a consultant of the IIC for its gardens.

The rooted cuttings of Chrysanthemum with new varieties were procured from different sources and planted. These varieties bloomed well in December. Dahlia rooted cutting plants, Carnations and different varieties of bulbous plant materials, viz., Ranunculus, Gladiolus, Freesia, Asiatic Lillium, etc., were procured from the Dr Y.S. Parmar University of Horticulture and Forestry, Solan, HP, from its Research Centres at Mashobra and from the Department of Horticulture, Government of Himachal Pradesh, Shimla and planted both in pots and beds; these bloomed in January and will continue to bloom till March-April, depending on the weather conditions in Delhi.

Winter annual plants such as Marigold, Petunia, Aster, Cineraria, Calendula, Dianthus, Gazania, Verbena, Nasturtium, Stock, Pansies, Sweet Williams, etc., were planted in beds in the front lawns as well as in the Fountain and Rose gardens.

The garden staff has also been supplying plants to members and others at nominal prices. The Cup-n-Saucer (Cobaea scandens) supplied by the Solan University seven years back and planted in a row in the Plaza Garden have been blooming continuously.

Rose plants produced their first bloom in December and will continue till April. The Plaza Garden is now fully maintained by the IIC Garden staff and kept clean for various functions organised by the Centre and others.

Prof. Wangari Maathai, 2004 Nobel Peace Laureate from Kenya visited the IIC and planted the Kadamba (Anthocephalus indicus) sapling in the Plaza Garden on the 22nd of March 2007.

The Centre has also started a vermiculture project at the extreme end of the Fountain Lawn with the assistance of M/s Clean Air Island, Mumbai. The vermiculture project area, with deep burrowing earthworms, has been earmarked for disposal of 100 kg of vegetable waste from the Kitchens and Gardens of the Centre. The waste will turn into organic manure in a year and will be used for the Centre's lawns and gardens, bringing about a reduction in the expense of purchasing manure.

Three of our garden staff, viz., S/Shri Chhabi Lal, Ram Gopal and Laljee Yadav were nominated to attend the Basic Garden Training Programme organised by the All India Kitchen Garden Association (Regd.) at Rajdhani Nursery, New Delhi from 23rd to the 31st of July 2007. It is planned to sponsor garden staff to undergo training in maintaining Lawns/Gardens under the scientists of the Horticulture Department of Indian Agriculture Research Institute, Pusa, New Delhi, during the year 2008.

Financial Position

The income of the Centre during the Financial Year 1st of April 2006 to the 31st of March 2007 showed a significant increase from Rs. 1776.85 lakhs to Rs.2001.20 lakhs, an increase of Rs. 224.35 lakhs. The net surplus at the end of the Financial Year 2006-2007, after providing for Depreciation and Replacement Fund and Contingencies Fund was Rs. 27.04 lakhs as against Rs. 19.62 lakhs in the Financial Year 2005-06. The amount provided under these funds is Rs.275 lakhs as against Rs. 150 lakhs in the previous Financial Year. The Audited Accounts for the year 2006-2007 show a satisfactory position. The position continues to be sound for the current year as can be seen from the Revised Estimates 2007-2008 and the Budget Estimates for 2008-2009.

The investment policy of the Centre, as in previous years, continues with the placing of funds in risk-free investments.

Staff

On the occasion of the 46th Annual Day of the Centre a get-together of staff was organised on the 21st of January 2008, at which Prof. M.G.K. Menon, President, felicitated the employees and presented cash rewards, watches and certificates to the following: S/Shri L. K. Joshi, Manohar Lal, P. K. Sharma, Ranbir Singh, Youdhvir Singh, Ashok Kumar, Anand Singh Rawat, Kamal Kishore, Tej Bahadur, Ajeet Chand, Surender Singh, Rohtash Singh, C. A. Rajan, G. K. Nayak, all of whom have completed twenty-five years of service with the Centre.

The Centre bade farewell to S/Shri Ramesh Chander, Cook I, and Laxman Ram, Cook III, who retired during the year.

As in the past, the management continued to address the needs of the staff, since only if they are served well by the organisation can their service to members be of a high order. Significant amongst what has been provided in the past are the presence of daily doctors at the Centre, vehicles to drop persons to particular points late at night, and the introduction of a transparent and objective promotion policy.

Training

A month-long training programme was organised for all the operational staff of the Centre for upgradation of services in general.

A computer training course was organised with the assistance of APTEC in four batches for sixty-eight employees.

Upkeep and Maintenance

For the Financial Year 2007-08, apart from carrying out the routine upkeep and maintenance, certain additional work has been executed.

Acting upon suggestions given by certain members and taking the advice of experts various measures have been taken to provide barrier-free access to disabled persons wherever possible.

The air-conditioning system in the Annexe, which had outlived its life, has been replaced. The new air-conditioning machines possess a better energy-efficiency ratio which will enhance the air-conditioning effect while reducing energy consumption.

An independent access has been provided to the third-floor terrace in the Annexe, so that those using the terrace do not have to pass through the Lounge.

The area above the Private Dining Hall is being converted into a covered air-conditioned space.

Infrastructure Project

The statutory approvals for the proposed additional constructions were obtained from various civic authorities, viz., NDMC, Delhi Urban Arts Commission, Archaeological Survey of India and Delhi Fire Service. The plans have been released by the NDMC to take up the construction activities.

As per the cost-estimates prepared by the Architect and their associates and on the basis of the short-listed bidders qualified for going through the pre-qualification process advertised through the newspapers, the tendering process was taken up.

However, as the lowest bid received was about 36 per cent higher than the estimated cost, it is proposed to re-tender the work.

Computerization

An important step taken during the year was to provide better access to the internet. Wi-Fi facility has been introduced from November 2007 in all residential rooms of the Centre, the Library, the Reception and other venues; the facility is available in the Main complex as well as in the Annexe. The reception of the signals at all venues is satisfactory.

An improved software for Room Reservation has been implemented from January 2007, the results of which have been satisfactory.

Management of the Centre

Shri M.P. Wadhawan, Honorary Treasurer, continued to favour the Centre with his valuable advice.

The Centre continued to benefit from the expert advice and guidance of its eminent Trustees.

The Finance Committee, chaired by Dr Shankar Nath Acharya, has undertaken detailed exercises to study, in depth, the finances of the Centre.

Members of the Executive Committee have provided valuable inputs, as well as consistent support, to the management in operational activities.

The Centre has benefited from the excellent suggestions made by the Programme Planning Advisory Groups.

Finally, our gratitude to members, who comprise the finest and most talented people in our society and whose dedication and contribution to the Centre are, as always, invaluable.

All these bodies and individuals have orchestrated to produce a quality of excellence in an institution that we can all be justly proud of.

Director
